Sapphire from Montana (USA)

Fine sapphires were first found in Montana, USA in the 19th century by miners and prospectors looking for alluvial gold and other precious metals. Since this serendipitous discovery, the state of Montana has produced large quantities of exquisite sapphires for more than 150 years. The beauty of these sapphires, which come in a wide range of colors, reflects the beauty of the majestic Montana countryside where the gemstones are found.
